"Having my department managers take part in THCA's affiliate program has benefited the entire facility, staff and patients. By taking part, managers are able to share best practices while networking with peers, keep up with current industry trends and sharpen leadership skills. Participation is a must for those who want the best. I highly recommend the program."

*Russell Caughron, administrator
Peachtree Center Nursing & Rehabilitation*

"Affiliate membership allows me to join a network of my peers to share information, gain insight and exchange problem-solving ideas."

*Dan Dale, environmental services director
Woodcrest at the Blakeford
2006 ESA Member of the Year*

"Being an active member of a THCA affiliate organization helps me become a better long-term care professional and keeps me informed on industry information. Affiliate membership means many opportunities to network with others in my field. Sharing creative solutions to problems we all encounter reminds me that I am not alone. I always look forward to the annual Conference for Department Heads, packed with education and fun!"

*Sharon Crawley, director of nursing
Westwood Health Care Center
2006 DONA Member of the Year*

Developing and Promoting
Growth and Success

Uncover the vast resources THCA's affiliate organizations provide and make the most of your career....

Since 1947, the Tennessee Health Care Association (THCA) has provided its members with the resources they need to enhance performance and improve the quality of care they provide.

Benefit by affiliation

THCA has five affiliate organizations to meet the needs of nursing home department heads through information, education and opportunities for face-to-face networking and sharing information. THCA's affiliate organizations can help you gain an invaluable professional edge through:

Professional development

- More than 50 continuing education seminars throughout the year
- Annual Convention & Trade Show
- Affiliate awards program

Leadership development

- Annual Conference for Department Heads
- District meetings and events with peers to network and share information
- Opportunities to hold district and state offices
- Opportunities to serve on the Affiliate Coordinating Council, a group of dedicated professionals who work closely with THCA staff to improve affiliate activities and programs

Publications/resources

- Subscription to Perspective, THCA's quarterly magazine
- Annual education calendar and seminar brochures
