NURSING ASSISTANT: TRAIN THE TRAINER
A state-approved, two-day seminar required for instructors and program coordinators of THCA’s nursing assistant training program

WHEN & WHERE
SEPTEMBER 11-12, 2019 – BRENTWOOD

WHAT’S IT ALL ABOUT?
“Nursing Assistant: Train the Trainer” meets federal regulations that require nursing assistant trainers to learn adult-education methodologies to operate facility-based nursing assistant training (NAT) programs. Learn effective teaching strategies for educating adults, increase your knowledge of regulations, and improve your CNA staff by learning from our expert presenters.

SEMINAR FACULTY
Diane Titus is a principal with People Matters, LLC, a human resources consulting and training company. She has over 20 years of experience in organizational development and fostering learning environments.

Juanita Honeycutt, NHA, has more than 30 years of experience as a CNA, LPN, director of nursing and administrator in long-term care. She has served as a trainer for several large corporations and has taught THCA’s CNA courses for many years.

Wanda King, nurse aide training program manager with the Division of Health Care Facilities of the Tennessee Department of Health (TDH), will be on hand to discuss the rules and regulations that every CNA training instructor and coordinator should know.

SEMINAR AGENDA
Day 1: Adult Learning Strategies
• Characteristics of Adult Learners
• Four Principles of Andragogy
• Being an Effective Facilitator
• Instructional Strategies for Active Learning

Day 2: Regulations and requirements
• Federal regulations for program content
• Requirements for Tennessee’s NAT program
• Best Practices

WHO SHOULD ATTEND?
Primary instructors of THCA’s NAT program should attend the entire two-day program. Coordinators of THCA’s NAT program who have not attended this seminar should attend at least the second day, which will provide specific information about the program. THCA offers a lower registration fee for second-day-only attendance.
